

INTERNATIONAL PROPERTY SECURITY DATA BASES INFORMATION

The States of Jersey Police highly recommend that you make a note of all of your valuable property. This would include laptops, mobile phones, pedal cycles, jewellery, and everything else that you consider to be precious to you.

It would also benefit you to security mark your valuable items, so that if recovered, they can be easily traced by the Police, and could then be returned to you if lost or stolen.

Registering Your Property

A highly effective way to register your property is to put the details online. There are several websites which can be used for this, which can be accessed by Police Forces who use dedicated secure email addresses to gain access to the information held on the relevant website property registers. This means that if your property is lost or stolen, then Police Forces can access your property register and see the property details, and on some websites, the uploaded photos of your property.

Immobilise is the world's largest free register of possession ownership details, and together with its sister sites the Police's NMPR (www.thenmpr.com), which is the national Police database of registered property ownership and stolen property records, and CheckMEND (www.checkmend.com), which is the world's largest source of used electronics information, forms a very effective tool in helping to reduce crime and repatriate recovered personal property to its rightful owners.

Immobilise can be used by members of the public and businesses to register their valued possessions or company assets, and exclusive to Immobilise, all account holders registered items and ownership details are viewable on the Police national property database, the NMPR (www.thenmpr.com).

This online checking service is used by UK Police forces to trace owners of lost and stolen property. In addition, Immobilise is checked daily by a huge range of recovery agencies and lost property offices.

Immobilise is also the only ownership registration service supported by UK Police forces, the Greater London Authority, and the Mobile Phone Industry.

www.TheISR.org

The International Security Register (ISR) is a security marking, registration and verification system. It is a highly secure and confidential database owned and operated exclusively by Retainagroup Ltd. The ISR provides immediate verification of information held on vehicles and other items of value that have been marked with a Retainagroup security code and the 24/7 telephone number of the ISR.

The Retainagroup security marking and registration system provides individual identifying characteristics through a totally unique security code. The company sells a range of property marking packs for various types of property, which the owner of the property can then register on the International Security Register database.

BikeRegister is one of the UK's leading online registration initiatives aiming to reduce bicycle theft and assist in owner recovery. In addition to supporting the UK bike industry by offering a free online registration service, BikeRegister is able to offer bike marking enhancements to further protect your bike.

Registering and marking your bike achieves two major objectives:

By marking the frame of your bike with a Police Preferred Secured By Design product, it will make your bike less attractive to potential bike thieves.

It assists the Police in quickly tracing the ownership of recovered bikes through the BikeRegister permanent ID mark.

The BikeRegister ownership document is your Log Book and provides proof of ownership for you and any potential buyer. BikeRegister also provides protection for buyers and sellers of second hand bikes, as it allows prospective buyers to check the bike's ID mark or frame number on the site to see if it is flagged as stolen.

Property Marking
